

Sustainable water management
as a global public good

October 16, 17 and 18 •

Sustainable water management as a global public good.

Dear guests:

Cartagena, Colombia hosts the headquarters of the XII Ibero-American Regulation Forum (FIAR) 2019, which for this version has been focused on the "Sustainable water management as a global public good". This year, The organization of the event is in charge of the Drinking Water and Basic Sanitation Regulatory Commission (CRA) of Colombia.

The FIAR is the main international forum for Latin American drinking water regulatory bodies, which is held annually to generate spaces for the exchange of knowledge and experiences, to promote the construction of more effective and responsible regulatory frameworks, which seek to guarantee sustainability of water resources in the region contributing to the fulfillment of the Sustainable Development Goals.

CRA is pleased to invite you to participate in the XII FIAR that will take place on October 16 and 17, 2019 and to the discussion on normative trends of water sector in Colombia on October 18, within the framework of the XII FIAR in the city of Cartagena.

Below you will find the registration link, which will help the organization of the forum. Detailed information about the investment and the available payment methods will be sent to the registered e-mail.

REGISTER

Sustainable water management as a global public good

Responsible consumption and production

Signals for rational and efficient use.

Efficiency and quality in the provision of services

CLEAN WATER AND SANITATION

Water Security

Universal access with differential approaches and social sustainability

Sustainable cities and communities

Differential tariffs and conditions in subnormal neighbourhoods.

Peace, justice and strong institutions

Differential tariffs and conditions in rural areas.

No poverty

Differential tariffs and service appreciation.

Reduced inequalities

Reduced inequalities and appropriated service access solutions.

Sustainable water management as a global public good

Cartagena de Indias:

Tourist and port city of the Caribbean, meeting place for Colombia and the world; which is listed as a UNESCO World Heritage Site since 1984.

It has great national and international recognition due to its historical-cultural values and its friendly people who possess a strong sense of belonging and a strong commitment to maintain and preserve Cartagena as a sustainable destination that seeks economic, sociocultural and environmental balance.

Event venue:

Las Américas Hotel and International Convention Center :

Located in Anillo Vial, Sector Cielo Mar,
Cartagena de Indias, Colombia

THANK YOU!

Sustainable water management
as a global public good ■

Comisión
de Regulación
de Agua Potable y
Saneamiento Básico

🌐 cracolombia
🌐 www.cra.gov.co
☎ 4873820 / 018000517565
📍 cra 12 # 97- 90 Bogotá
✉ correo@cra.gov.co

Maria C. Lozano
Mlozano@cra.gov.co
PBX: (571) 4897650 Ext: 312

Nancy Blanco
comercialcentro@acodal.org.co
Cel: 3204828346

Liliana Martínez
comercial2@acodal.org.co
PBX: (571) 7020900
Cel: 3114960147