ddb2024.es

DDBP2024 conference is the international event promoted by the IWA Disinfection Specialist Group related to disinfection, disinfection by-products and related topics. The conference stands as a relevant and well-recognized network opportunity for sharing the expertise of water professionals worldwide to promote innovative shared visions with respect to conference topics and shaping the future of water management. The DDBP 2024 conference can be considered a recognized and influential event for the whole community of water professionals, including academia, industry, water utilities, policymakers and other stakeholders of the water sector. With all these ingredients, we are sure that we can offer you an excellent conference, in which we are all the protagonists. With all these ingredients, we are convinced that we will be able to offer you an excellent and inclusive conference. See you in Almería!
